"the Constitution" means the Constitution of the United Republic of Tanzania, 1977;,

"emergency" includes war, invasion, insurrection real or apprehended or a breakdown of public order, which in the opinion of the President is a threat to the security of the United Republic, or a riot or other disaster or a natural calamity -within the United Republic whether caused by natural causes or otherwise, which could achieve such a serious nature as to be of national concern;

"emergency area" means any area of the United Republic in which there exists an emergency declared by the President;

"President" includes any person lawfully discharging the functions of the President;

"public meeting" means any assembly of more than five persons wherever it takes place and whether or not open to the public or to any category or portion of the public; and a meeting may be a public meeting notwithstanding that it is held in a private place nor that admission thereto is restricted by ticket or otherwise.

PART II
PROCLAMATION OF EMERGENCY

4.--(1) The President shall by directions under his hand, provide for the procedure to be complied with by specified authorities in informing him of events and circumstances in any area or locality within the United Republic, which may necessitate or lead to the declaration of a state of emergency in that area or locality.

(2) Where the President, after receiving information in accordance with subsection (1), is satisfied that there exists in any area or locality of the United Republic a situation which necessitates the declaration of a state of emergency, he may, subject to section 32 of the Constitution, by proclamation published in the Gazette, declare that there exists a state of emergency in the United Republic or in the area or locality of it concerned.

(3) The proclamation issued by the President under subsection (2) shall be conclusive evidence of the existence of a state of emergency in the United Republic or in the area or locality concerned and that it has existed for such period of time as may be stated in the proclamation.

(4) A proclamation issued under subsection (2) shall remain in operation until it is revoked by the President by a further proclamation declaring its cessation or until there occurs any of the situations referred to in section 32 (5) of the Constitution.

(5) The cessation of a state of emergency in accordance with subsection (4) shall not affect the validity of any act or thing lawfully done or suffered in pursuance of any order or direction, made or issued in furtherance of the proclamation; or affect any right, privilege, obligation, liability, penalty, forfeiture or punishment acquired, accrued or incurred under the proclamation in pursuance of the provisions of this Act".
THE UNITED REPUBLIC OF TANZANIA

No. 1 of 1986

Emergency Powers 1986

I ASSENT,

[Signature]

President

2nd April, 1986

An Act to repeal the Emergency Powers Orders in Council 1939 to 1961, to make better provisions which provide for and confer certain emergency powers upon the President for the purpose of ensuring public safety and maintenance of public order during emergencies and for connected matters

WHEREAS section 32 of the Constitution of the United Republic of Tanzania provides, inter alia, that the President may, subject to an Act of Parliament, proclaim the existence of a state of emergency in the United Republic or in any part of it:

AND WHEREAS it is recognized that situations may arise from time to time within or outside the United Republic which, by reason of their potential threat to the security, peace and good order of the United Republic, may necessitate the exercise of emergency powers by the President:

AND WHEREAS it is meet that there be provided limits and adequate safeguards in relation to the exercise of emergency powers;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ENACTED by the Parliament of the United Republic as follows:—

PART I
PRELIMINARY

1. This Act may be cited as the Emergency Powers Act, 1986, and shall come into operation on such date as the President may, by notice in the Gazette, appoint.

2. This Act shall apply to Tanzania Zanzibar as well as to Mainland Tanzania.

3. In this Act, unless the context requires otherwise:—

"the Code" means the Penal Code;
PART III

EMERGENCY POWERS

5.-(1) The President may, by order published in the Gazette, delegate all or any of the emergency powers conferred upon him by the provisions of this Act to any specified authority.

(2) For the purpose of this section, 'specified authority' includes Regional Commissioner, District Commissioner, and any other person authorized by the President.

(3) The delegation made under subsection (1) shall be in a prescribed form.

6. The President may do and authorize such acts and things, and make from time to time such orders and regulations as he may, by reason of the existence of a state of emergency, deem necessary for the security, defence, peace, order and welfare of the United Republic.

7.--(1) Any specified authority to whom the President may delegate his powers under section 5, if satisfied with respect to any particular person that with a view of preventing him from acting in any manner prejudicial to the public safety or the maintenance of public tranquility, it is necessary so to do, may arrest such person without warrant, or may direct the arrest without warrant of such person and in making such arrest any means that may be necessary may be used.

(2) An arrest made by or on the direction of a specified authority under this section shall be reported forthwith to the President by the specified authority so making or so directing the arrest as the case may be, and the authority making the report may by order in writing commit any person so arrested to such custody as the President may deem fit.

(3) The President may by order in writing commit any person arrested on his direction to such custody as he may deem fit.

(4) No person detained shall, unless the President by a special order otherwise directs, be detained in custody for a period exceeding two months.

(5) No person shall be detained in custody for an aggregate period exceeding six months unless it is shown to the satisfaction of the President that his continued detention is in the public interest; in that case he may be detained for a further period not exceeding three months.

(6) The President may, by general or special order, determine the conditions as to maintenance, discipline and the punishment of offences and breaches of discipline which shall be applicable to persons committed to custody by an order made under subsection (2) or subsection (3).

(7) If a specified authority has reason to believe that a person in respect of whom the order as aforesaid has been made directing that he be detained has absconded or is concealing himself so that the order cannot be executed, he may--

(a) make a report to a Resident or District Magistrate having jurisdiction in the place where the said person ordinarily resides; and thereupon the provisions of sections 115 and 159 of the Criminal Procedure Act, 1985 shall apply in respect of the said person and his property as if the order directing that he be detained were a warrant issued by the magistrate;

(b) by order notified in the Gazette direct the said person to appear before a specified officer, at such place and within such period as may be specified in the Order; and if the said person fails to comply with the direction, unless he proves that it was not possible for him to comply therewith and that he had, within the period specified in the order, informed the officer of the reason which rendered compliance therewith impossible and of his whereabouts, be punishable with a term of imprisonment not exceeding 4 years or with a fine not exceeding twenty thousand shillings, or with both such fine and imprisonment.

B.-(1) The specified officer or District or Resident Magistrate, if satisfied with respect to any particular person that with a view to preventing him from acting in any manner prejudicial to the public safety or the maintenance of public order it is necessary so to do, may by order in writing, give anyone or more of the following directions, namely, that such person-

(a) shall not enter, reside or remain in any area that may be specified in the order;
(b) shall reside in any area that may be specified in the order;
(c) shall remove himself from, and not return to, any area that may be specified in the order;
(d) shall conduct himself in such manner as may be specified in the order.

(2) The President may at any time cancel or vary any order made by a specified authority under subsection (1).

9. The President or any public servant authorized by him in that behalf if satisfied that any institution or organization conducts itself in a manner prejudicial to the organization of public safety or the maintenance of public order, may-

(a) close or ban the institution or organization for such period as he may consider necessary, or
(b) remove or dismiss any leader, employee or member of that institution or organization.

10.-(1) The President or any person authorised by him in that behalf may, if he is satisfied that any action is necessary for the purpose of preventing or combating any activity prejudicial to the public safety or the maintenance of public order, by order in writing addressed to a printer, publisher or editor-

(a) prohibit the printing or publication in any document or any class of documents of any matter relating to a particular subject or category of subjects either absolutely or for a specified period, or in a particular issue of a newspaper or periodical;
(b) require that any matter be published in any particular issue or issues of a newspaper or periodical, and may in doing so, specify the period during which and the manner in which such publication shall be done;

(c) require that any matter relating to a particular subject or category of subjects shall, before publication, be submitted for scrutiny;

(d) prohibit either absolutely or for a specified period the publication of any newspaper, periodical, leaflet, publication, or the use of any printing press.

(2) In the event of disobedience of an order made under this section, the President or other authority issuing the order may, without prejudice to any other penalty to which the person who is guilty of the disobedience is liable, order the seizure of all copies of any publication concerned and of any printing press or other instrument or apparatus used in the production of the publication.

11.-(1) The President or any person authorised by him in that behalf may, if satisfied that an action is necessary for the purpose of preventing or combating any activity prejudicial to the public safety or the maintenance of public order, by notification, either absolutely or for a specified period, restrict the bringing into the United Republic any newspaper, periodical, leaflet or other publication.

(2) In the event of disobedience of an order under this section, the President or the authority issuing the order may, without prejudice to any other penalty to which the person guilty of disobedience may be liable, order the seizure of all copies of any newspaper, periodical, leaflet or other publication concerned.

12.--(1) If in the opinion of the President it is necessary for the public advantage to control production, exportation, importation or supply of any commodity, water or electricity in any emergency area, he may by order in the Gazette, make declarations to that effect.

(2) Any order made under subsection (1) shall prescribe modalities and forms to be used for purposes of restricting trade and supply of commodities, water or electricity.

13.-- 1) In this section-

(a) regulate, restrict or prohibit the use upon any road of any vehicle and may require as a condition of its use that a vehicle use carry a permit issued by him containing such condition as he may think fit.
(b) regulate, restrict or prohibit the use of Tanzanian air space, airport or any airfield by any aircraft and may require as a condition of use of Tanzanian airspace or airfields that any aircraft carry a permit issued by him containing such condition as he may think fit;
(c) regulate, restrict or prohibit the use of Tanzanian ports or territorial waters by any vessel and may require as a condition of use of Tanzanian ports or territorial waters that any vessel carry a permit issued by him containing such conditions as he may think fit.

14. The President or any specified authority may, by order in writing, prohibit, either generally or in a specified area for a specified time, the holding of any procession or demonstration in any public meeting, or the carrying in public of anything capable of being used as a weapon of offence.

15. The power to issue search warrants under the provisions of the Criminal Procedure Act, 1985, shall include the power to issue warrants for-

(a) the search of any place in which any specified authority has reason to believe that any offence under this Act, or any act prejudicial to the public safety or maintenance of public order, has been, is being or is about to be committed, or that preparation for the commission of any such offence or act is being made,

(b) the seizure in or on any place searched under sub-paragraph (a) of anything which the officer executing the warrant has reason to believe is being used or is intended to be used for any purpose mentioned in that sub-paragraph, and the provisions of that Act shall, so far as may be practicable, apply to searches made under the authority of any warrant issued and to the disposal of any property seized under this section.

16. Any authority on which any power is conferred by or under this Act may by general or special order authorize any person to enter and search any place, the search of which such authority has reason to believe to be necessary for the purpose of-

(a) ascertaining whether it is necessary or expedient to exercise such power; or

(b) ascertain whether any order given, direction made, or condition prescribed in the exercise of such power has been duly complied with;

(c) generally giving effect to such power or securing compliance with or giving effect to, any order given, direction made or condition prescribed in the exercise of such power.

17.--(1) Any authority, officer or person who is empowered by or in pursuance of this Act to make any order, or to exercise any other power action prescribed by or under this Act, may take or cause to be taken, such steps and use, or caused to be used, such force as may, in the opinion of such authority, be reasonably necessary for securing compliance with, or for preventing or rectifying any contravention of such order, or for the effective exercise of such power.

(2) For the avoidance of doubts it is declared that the power to take steps under subsection(1) includes the power to enter upon any land or other property whatsoever.
18. The President may, if in his opinion it is necessary for the purposes of implementing the provisions of this Act, suspend, or disapply any written law for the time being in force and such suspension or disapplication shall lapse with the revocation of the Proclamation issued in terms of the provisions of section 4 (4) of this Act.
